A jewel for all lovers of the traditional architecture of Jávea, of Mediterranean villages, of streets full of plants and light and of traditional houses. For those who appreciate the authenticity and quality of the noble materials that make up this unique village house. It is very difficult to find a classic property that has been renovated with respect for architectural traditions and this house is a good example.

I don't know if reincarnation is a myth but I can affirm that when I enter houses like this I have the sensation of having lived in another era. It awakens in my soul a feeling of familiarity, of having belonged to a previous era, of comfort with what is around me, in short, a feeling of home. And I am certain that I would be happy living here.

On the main floor there is a living-dining room with fireplace, kitchen and covered patio. The first floor consists of two bedrooms and a complete bathroom. The first floor has three more bedrooms, the smallest of which could be transformed into a second bathroom. On the third floor we find a nice and sunny terrace with sea and mountain views.

You will love it for: being in the most beautiful street of Jávea and for having the licence for holiday rentals.
